

The Telcom Act of 1996 didn't quite go far enough in homogenizing the airwaves, didn't put enough people who really love the medium of radio out of work, didn't slam door hard enough in the faces of hard working independent bands. I can see that.